Our Minister Rev. Catherine Torpey is on sabbatical from January 1 until May 31, 2011. A sabbatical, much like a Sabbath, is intended to be a time of rest and reflection, allowing one to return to the usual round of duties with new vision and renewed enthusiasm. There is a Sabbatical Committee made up of SNUUC members whose role is to keep an eye on the congregation during the sabbatical months. Please contact one of these people if you have any questions; Anne Fleming, Denise Hibbert, Sharon Nanos, Rosemary Olander, Barbara Singer or Tom Weingarten.

Our on-call Minister for February

Our Preachers for February

The Rev. Hope Johnson

The Rev. Hope Johnson is an active leader of the Unitarian Universalist movement—a weaver Hope who brings people together. She currently serves as Minister of one of our sister congregations on Long Island, the Unitarian Universalist Congregation of Central Nassau in Garden City. She is in her eighth year of ministry there and is excited to cover Catherine Torpey who is on sabbatical by serving as our on-call minister during the month of February, 2011. Please do not hesitate to call her whenever the need arises.

Hope hails from Kingston, Jamaica and has been a UU for 22 years! She hopes that as many persons as possible will attend this year's General Assembly (GA) in Charlotte, NC and reminds us that it is just a drive away! She is excited that LIAC will be providing round-trip bus service to GA this year! She is very involved in Unitarian Universalism on the local, district and associational levels and encourages leadership development as a spiritual practice. She is also very involved in the work of anti-racism and multiculturalism. As an elected member of the Executive Committee of the Unitarian Universalist Ministers Association, Hope now serves as Continental Good Offices Person.

Hollis Huston is a chaplain with Continuum Hospice Care in New York City, a graduate of Union Theological Seminary, and a candidate for UU ministry.

Jennifer Greene, Director of Religious Exploration at SNUUC, came to us from the UU Fellowship of Bellport, where she served as a lay leader for many years. She is also part of the Reverence for Life Team for the Unitarian Universalist Animal Ministry, and will be coordinating the UUAM booth in the exhibit hall this summer at General Assembly.

Jennifer was a preteen when her family started attending Cedar Lane UU Church in Maryland, and she still remembers her delight at discovering people who were asking the same kind of questions she was. Jennifer's son, Dan Garisto, is an 11th grader in SNUUC's senior youth group.

Jennifer says, "To me, 'Unitarian Universalist' and 'activist' feel redundant; I feel more spiritually whole when my actions are aligned with my values, and when I'm able to inspire others toward positive change. I agree with our Unitarian forebear and abolitionist, Theodore Parker, who preached that the arc of the moral universe is long, but it bends toward justice. When I was just a babe, the great preacher and civil rights leader Martin Luther King famously declared this same hopeful vision, and still our struggles continue—against racism, economic injustice, war, and other forms of oppression.

"King's widow Coretta and their son Dexter both became dedicated vegans and advocates for animals, and so have I. It gives me joy to practice nonviolence every day through my food choices, and to help others do the same—in a way that's compassionate and humble and loving, I hope! By choosing vegan whenever you can, you'll help hasten the day when billions of individuals don't suffer at human hands, simply for taste, convenience, or tradition. Yes, food is a very personal matter. When people ask me why they should eat more plant foods, here's what I say: because it's better for you, better for the planet, and most important, it's consistent with your own values of kindness, mercy, and justice."

 * On behalf of the junior youth, Katie Beach sends this *
 * message to SNUUC members: "Thank you so much *
 * for bringing back the Guest at Your Table boxes. *
 * Everyone will greatly benefit from it." *
 * *
 * If you haven't returned your box, it might not be too * * late—bring in your contribution ASAP, whether as *
 * cash-in-the-box or as a check made out to UUSC *
 * (UU Service Committee), and give it to Jennifer or to *
 * an usher during the offertory. Thank you! *

OUR BOARDWALK

Many thanks to all the members who turned out Jan. 23 for the Biannual Congregational Meeting. I'm hoping it's the weather that kept so many people away, creating some drama as we scrambled to assemble a quorum. The meeting was successful, nevertheless, as the congregation elected a new Board of Trustees and Nominating Committee and voted for the proposed bylaws changes.

The board welcomes new trustees Ken Bellafiore and Lisa Itts, and youth trustee Matt Corina. The returning trustees are Jim Crocetto, Brian Larkin, Peter Larsen, Steve Lester and myself. We'll have a short induction during worship on Jan. 30. A board orientation will take place February 4.

The new Nominating Committee members are: Rita Hines, continuing in a second year, Selina Benson, Denise Hibbert, Bobby Newman and Tom Weingarten.

While it is an honor to serve on the Board of Trustees and on the Nominating Committee, I think I speak for the congregation when I say we are grateful for these members' commitment of time and energy.

We are about halfway through the congregational year, and SNUUC's treasurer Peter Larsen reported at the biannual meeting that we are doing well in terms of operating income. Thanks so much to all the members who are keeping current with their pledges for this fiscal year.

It's not too soon, however, for committees to begin thinking about their income and expenses for the next congregational year. Budget requests for the 2011-12 fiscal year are due March 1 to the Finance Committee.

The congregation is nearly a month into the Rev. Catherine Torpey's sabbatical, and we've enjoyed the worship services lead by a number of returning and new faces. Congregants should remember that the Sabbatical Team is available for them during this time. The members of the sabbatical team are chairs Denise Hibbert and Sharon Nanos, and team members Anne Fleming, Barbara Singer, Tom Weingarten and myself.

There are a number of fun events planned in the next few weeks. On Feb. 5, there's a fundraiser for the United Mitochondrial Disease Foundation organized by members Ted Tiller and Ilene Corina along with many other members. On Feb. 6 is the Second Annual Hale Smith Concert, co-produced by the Long Island Composers Alliance and SNUUC, to celebrate Black History Month. This event was standing-room-only last year, so plan to arrive early! In addition, the composer alliance is hosting two other concerts at SNUUC in February. See the articles in this newsletter for more about these events.

Hope to see you all there!

With gratitude, Rosemary Olander-Beach, president

SNUUC's 2011-2012 Financial Commitment Drive Kicks-Off On Sunday February 27, 2011

Starting at service on Sunday February 27 and concluding at the end of March we all will consider afresh how much of our personal financial resources we are willing and able to commit to SNUUC in the coming fiscal year that runs from July 1, 2011 to June 30, 2012.

This is a very important annual activity. As our treasurer Peter Larsen reminded us last Sunday at the semi-annual congregational meeting, our Financial Commitments are the financial life blood of SNUUC, the single most important source of the funding that enables us to be the religious community we are and that we strive to be. It was great to hear from Peter that collections vs. commitments for the current fiscal year are coming in right as they should be at this point in the cycle.

We certainly are willing and able!

Peter next reminded us that the annual budget process is starting -- where committees, finance and treasury assemble the information needed to develop SNUUC's operating budget for fiscal 2011-12. Our Financial Commitments are the single most important piece of that puzzle.

What money are we willing and able to pledge to the work of the congregation in 2011-12?

Your stewardship committee is willing and able to support the congregation in this important decision-making process and has promised to deliver results of the drive to the Board, Finance Committee and Treasurer by the close of March.

Hollis Huston will energize our willing and able selves in worship on Sunday February 27. Then the Stewardship Committee will hold a series of Commitment Gatherings at 12 noon after coffee hour on all the Sundays in March. The gatherings are a convenient and cost-effective means to conduct this year's campaign. Stewardship recognizes that we all are very busy doing the work of the congregation and appreciates that money saved from efficiency will be available to plow back into our coffers.

Mark your calendars for the 2011-12 Commitment Gatherings at SNUUC: Sundays March 6, 13, 20, 27. Gather in Worship Room 12 noon after coffee hour

- Come gather
- Review the Financial Commitment Guide
- Consider the fiscal needs of SNUUC
- Weigh your personal commitment versus the personal financial resources you are willing and able to commit to SNUUC for 2011-12
- Make your Financial Commitment

We will conduct sign-ups during February and look forward to seeing you at one of the Commitment Gatherings in March.

Respectfully, Stewardship Committee – "Willing and Able"
Please contact Ellen Zaehring-Gach and Barbara Singer for anything related to our annual Financial Commitment drive.

Among Ourselves

We share the sad news that former SNUUC member Evelyn Senseny has died at her home in Massachusetts. There is a memorial service at SNUUC on Saturday, January 29 at 11am.

We welcome new member Alyxa Linker. Aly has been coming to services and events for many months and we are so glad she has joined SNUUC. Please call the office for Aly's contact information and say hello when you see her at coffee hour.

We send condolences to Mary Brower and Teddy and Danny Tiller on the death of Mary's father, Howard Raymond Brower on December 14, 2010. Mr. Brower was 90 years old and lived in Florida.

Special Friends

Special Friends is a group made up of RE kids and their partners, an adult member of SNUUC. Be a special friend to someone in our congregation and someone in the military! Sign up now so participants can be matched, speak with Rita Hines, Meghan Stark, Jojo Granoff or Ilene Corina. All children registered in RE, ages 7 and up and any adult member can participate. They meet every once in a while at SNUUC and get to know someone in the congregation from a different generation. There is an event planned for Sunday, February 13 at noon. Brown bag your lunch and a dessert to share with your special friend. You will be making Valentine cards and pictures and also writing notes to a soldier in Baghdad. Cody Matthews is 22 and from Selden, Long Island, he is Meghan Stark's friend and is stationed in Baghdad. Together after lunch we will prepare a shipment of cards and letters to send to Cody and his friends. Feel free to bring items appropriate to send to Cody's buddies; batteries, toiletries, socks, magazines, playing cards, gum, snack mix, air fresheners, hand warmers, etc. The Special Friends Program is an intergenerational program that offers an opportunity for children of all ages to get to know, on a personal level, adults in our congregation.

In the RE Wing

My most recent column closed with a brief reference to the social construction of race, which foreshadowed the focus of this month's column—what we can do, individually and collectively, about racism.

Parents, if you can bear it, check out the 17-minute film produced by the United National Peace Conference Media Project. It features Ethan McCord, U.S. Army Infantryman, Bravo Company 2:16, as well as U.S. gun-camera footage from 2007, released by WikiLeaks. (It's the third video down, at <http://www.collateralmurder.com>)

It is extremely difficult to watch.

The cultivation of racist attitudes and beliefs lets human beings discount the suffering of one another. It leads us to deny others the most basic moral consideration.

The first time I saw it, and heard the radio exchanges among the soldiers, I wept, my heart breaking. My sorrow was not just for those killed, but also for those who had done the killing. And where does the culpability end? I know that in some sense (unless I were a war tax resister), I'm a participant too.

But McCord ends with these words: "Hopefully one day, I will help others see that they're not alone in valuing life."

In the speech that he gave when awarded the Nobel Peace Prize, the Reverend Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. said, "I refuse to accept the view that mankind is so tragically bound to the starless midnight of racism and war that the bright daybreak of peace and brotherhood can never become a reality."

So what can we at SNUUC do to help eradicate racism, help build a more just and peaceful world? One thing we can do is provide ourselves and our children with anti-racism education.

If there's enough interest, we could obtain the excellent three-episode documentary, "Race: The Power of An Illusion" and view it together, adults and youth, and discuss the important issues in it.

If there are enough volunteer teachers, we could implement the Worth and Dignity of All People curriculum, which is for grades 1 through 8 in four age levels, and the accompanying sourcebook, Open Minds to Equality.

If there's enough time and enough love and enough forgiveness, we can learn from one another, learn from our own missteps, and build the world we dream about.

Peace, Jennifer
